

The Communicator November 1, 2024

In case you hadn't noticed this Communicator is several days late but what full days they have been!!!

Just today, on All Souls Day, Charlie Goff and I assembled a group of beautiful souls to honor our friend John Spencer the artist who created the whimsical, beautiful walls of the church of The Three Kings (Tres Reyes)... for just a touch of the magic he created, see the walls in the background of this photo. We have been creating ofrendas on John's grave since his passing. This year Ileana Tanner helped with the design and recreation of one of VanGogh's masterpieces. John loved Van Gogh and so we often use Vincent's art on John's grave. This year, thanks to all assembled (Amanda Hooten and Pat Manners had to leave before the photo) it turned out particularly well!! Thank you Gail Mitchell for this photo.

Tomorrow Isabel Graves is coordinating the ofrenda for Saint Michael's. She's already made a great start on it!!! We are hoping to have photos of your loved ones to add to the ofrenda so please arrive at church in time to put up a photo or two. Those of you who can help work on the ofrenda we will be working from 10-12 Saturday (tomorrow) morning. If you can bring photos at that time we can get them up early.

Sunday, November 3, our wonderful retired priest, Gillian Ball, will again grace us with her presence. Those of you who know Gillian need no encouragement to attend church Sunday morning. It is always a memorable experience. Gillian will be celebrating not only All Soul's but Remembrance Sunday.

Sunday, November 3, is also Birthday Sunday and Library Sunday. If you have young people in your family, hopefully you'll take them to the Library for Story Hour... a favorite each month.

This week we received a fun photo of Hearing Dog Jeff in his Halloween Costume

My apologies for a greatly abrogated

Communicator. I hope to have time tomorrow to actually write the Communicator for the week. In the meantime, Happy All Souls night. I hope the beloved who have passed from this earth but remain in your heart are especially present for you in these days. One of the many beauties of Mexico is this magical time each year that we dedicate to Remembrance.
